

Voter's Choice Act Election Administration Plan (EAP) Sacramento County Review Checklist

Voter's Choice Act Comprehensive Election Administration Plan Checklist

The Voter's Choice Act requires your county's election office to describe, in an Election Administration Plan (EAP), what the new way to vote will look like. This checklist is a comprehensive, detailed list of everything that should be in that EAP.

A simpler, clear Community Review Guide feedback form is also available on www.voterschoice.org. This Comprehensive EAP Checklist is intended for people who want to know about details to look for in the county's EAP.

As we mention in the Community Review Guide feedback form, you don't have to review everything. You can choose to focus on what matters to you most. When you review your county's plan think about some of these things:

- Does the EAP explain the county's plan to accomplish the requirements in this checklist?
- Do the plans work for your community?
- Do you have ideas as to how to improve the plan?
- Are there better locations or potential problems with locations for Vote Centers and Ballot Drop Boxes?
- Does the list of Vote Centers and Drop Boxes reflect the criteria noted on the last page of this checklist?
- Do you have other ideas about Voter Education and Outreach?
- Do you know of any media outlets (especially ethnic and in-language media) to add to the plan?

The Elections Office's is required to have an Election Administration Plan (EAP) that:

- Describes how the media, including social media, newspapers, radio, and TV, will be used to inform the public about the elections and promote the toll-free voter assistance phone number.
- Describes the media plans for Spanish, Chinese, Hindi, Japanese, Korean, Tagalog, and Vietnamese language communities.
- Describes the media plans to inform voters of accessibility options and how to request such options.
- Describes the community presence the elections office will have for voter education.
- Describes the accessible information that will be available on the elections official's accessible website.
- Describes the methods used to identify language minority communities.
- Describes the plans to educate the public about the Voter's Choice Act.
- Describes the plans to educate language communities. This plan must include at least one voter education bilingual workshop for each language community including Spanish, Chinese, Hindi, Japanese, Korean, Tagalog, and Vietnamese.
- Describes the plans to educate the disability community. This plan must include at least one voter education workshop for voters with disabilities and advocates.
- Provides the projected budget for voter education outreach activities that includes money to be spent and comparison to previous elections outreach budgets.
